

MY eCOACH® LAUNCHES eLIBRARY OF COPYRIGHT-FRIENDLY RESOURCES FOR EDUCATIONAL COMMUNITY AT FETC 2004

Orlando, FL- January 22, 2004 - My eCoach®, division of Computer Strategies, LLC, is pleased to announce the My eCoach® Online eLibrary of free educational resources and projects for teachers and students of all ages. The eLibrary houses original artwork, photos, handouts and templates, literature activities, video, inquiry-based projects, thematic units, lesson plans, and websites submitted by artists, photographers, teachers, and members of the My eCoach® Online community.

"We developed our eLibrary so that teachers and students can access and use quality resources without worrying about copyright infringement. We are delighted that teachers and students can use these resources for classroom use such as multimedia projects and websites," said Barbara Bray, President and CEO of My eCoach® and Computer Strategies, LLC.

Rosalie Ritz, a former courtroom artist who has covered famous trials from 1968 through 1994 including the trials of Patty Hearst, O.J. Simpson, and Black Panthers, has generously donated several original sketches of historical figures such as drawings of Harriet Tubman, Sacagawea, Abraham Lincoln, Frederick Douglass, and Robert E. Lee to the My eCoach® Online eLibrary collection.

"As an artist of 80 years old who loves drawing, I feel that My eCoach® has provided me with a new purpose for my art. I am learning history all over again and creating images that I hope teachers and students will be able to use as they learn history and current events," said Rosalie Ritz about her contributions to the eLibrary.

Resources can be easily searched by grade level, curriculum area, resource type, or keyword. My eCoach® has established relationships with business partners and university programs to contribute more resources to the eLibrary. Soon, visitors will be able to visit the eLibrary and submit resources to the eLibrary collection by following a formal review process to ensure quality control.

My eCoach® will be exhibiting in Booth #1111. If you would like to schedule a meeting with Barbara Bray, President of My eCoach®, please contact Leilani Carbonell Pedroni at leilani@my-ecoach.com or at 1-800-633-2248.

About My eCoach®

My eCoach®, a division of Computer Strategies, LLC, provides an all-in-one support network learning community and program that allows schools, districts, and university education programs to facilitate the coaching and mentoring process and integrate technology seamlessly. Since 1991, Computer Strategies, LLC has delivered successful professional development and technology integration solutions to the educational community. My eCoach® was formed in 1999 to expand the company's coaching and mentoring division focused on personalized professional development for schools and universities. Computer Strategies, LLC is headquartered in Oakland, CA, with associate branches throughout the United States.

###

Company Contact:
Leilani Carbonell Pedroni
7700 Edgewater Dr.,
Suite 600
Oakland, CA 94621
www.my-ecoach.com
leilani@my-ecoach.com
800.633.2248
FAX 510.562.4570